Youth Center Cut $731.00 In School District Allocation

The Carmel Recreation Commission, at its meeting Tuesday afternoon, cut the Carmel Youth Center's allocation from the School District from the $3500 per year it usually receives to $2769.

The Youth Center Adult Board Budget Committee presented a $11,040 budget. With the center's cash balance of $7,142; the Youth Follies profit of $750; $240 from the Lions Club and $180 from Rotary for movies, a contribution from the school district of $2769 meets the budget requirements, the recreation commission decided. If the Youth Center should show need for the rest of the $3500 later, they may have it, the commission promised.

There is $1200 budgeted for repairs, but a paint job is needed immediately and a new roof within two years.

Adult board budget committee is Bill Giles, P. A. McCreery, Mayor Horace Lyon, Karen Hicks, City Councilman Jim Buffington.

Dog Lockup Law Now In Effect; Rabies Shots Clinic Friday

A rabies vaccination clinic will be held at the Carmel fire house tomorrow (Friday) from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock. County Health Officer Dr. Myron Husband urges all dog owners to give their dogs this protection. Cost is $1.50 per animal.

Effective Monday, when the Carmel City Council met specially to hold second reading of an amendment to the dog licensing ordinance, dogs and cats may no longer run loose in the residence district or on the beach. They have not had the freedom of the business district for several years. The amendment is for one year only.

The council took action on the recommendation of the county health authorities. There is an outbreak of rabies on the peninsula which Dr. Husband regards as serious but he will not quarantine the area if the epidemic can be controlled by local legislation and co-operation of pet owners.

HIGHWAY DEPT. PLANS SALINAS-MONTEREY FREEWAY

California State Highway Department presented plans for a freeway from Salinas to Monterey to the county planning commission Tuesday. The freeway, to be constructed this fall, will follow the present route of the highway, with an airport over-pass.

The commission put over a request from Del Monte Properties for industrial zoning along the highway until it could be determined how much the freeway would encroach on the property, but granted Firestone's industrial zoning petition for a missile experimental laboratory site.

RESTAURANT AND REC HALL AT CARMEL RIVER BRIDGE

A. C. Smith's plans for a restaurant, swimming pool and recreation hall in connection with his Carmelo Motel were approved by the county planning commission Tuesday afternoon.

Carmelo Motel is located at the north end of Highway No. 1 bridge which crosses Carmel River.

Sanitary Board Considers New Cut In Taxes

When the Carmel Sanitary District Board holds a special meeting this afternoon at 5:30 to buy two new trucks, it will also consider taxes—lowering them!

If the other members of the board agree with Keith Evans, sanitary district taxes will be reduced two cents, putting the rate at 21 cents. Tax limit for the district is 60 cents.

Mayor And Carmel Citizens Confer With Gov. Knight

Mayor Horace Lyon, Harold L. Ireland of the Carmel Protective Association, and the Reverend Joseph Ewing of the Carmel Presbyterian Church are in Sacramento to meet with Governor Knight this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Ireland arranged the meeting to discuss "the position taken by the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control on Carmel's zoning ordinance governing the location of licenses in the C-1 and C-2 districts," according to Mayor Lyon.

"It should be extremely valuable to have an opportunity to explain just what the objectives of the zoning ordinances are, how the people of Carmel feel about those objectives and just how the ordinance has been administered to date. It is doubtful if the officials in Sacramento truly understand that the purpose of the ordinance is the proper location of liquor licenses in relation to the essential residential character of the town, as is quite evident from council action in the past."

He added that he is not going to Sacramento as a member of the association group but as a council member to provide information on the objectives and administration of the ordinance.

The ABC board ruled Carmel's ordinance invalid when the council protested licensing the Pink Elephant Liquor Store on the boundary of the residence district. Carmel Protective Association and the city appealed the decision. The appeals board has not yet ruled on the case.

Point Directors To Meet Saturday

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Carmel Point Home Owners Association will be held Saturday morning, June 15, at 11:00 o'clock.

A very gratifying number of property owners have joined the new Association and next Saturday arrangements will be made for a meeting of the membership in the near future. A time and place will be announced as soon as possible.

According to its temporary president, Frank Moller, one of the chief purposes of the new Association is to protect the residents of Carmel Point; to preserve its natural beauties; the residential character and high standards of the community, and to render assistance on matters which pertain to public health and safety.

There has been a steady yearly decrease in sanitary district taxes since five years after the board hiked them from 14 cents to 37 cents in 1948 to cover costs of improving the sanitary district disposal plant and outfall. The $190,000 job has been financed on a pay as you go basis, and Keith Evans, who has been a board member since 1940, with only service in the armed forces during World War II interrupting, says he's "a little bit proud of what we've done" on the pay as you go system.

"The total cost was greatly reduced. Few people have any idea of the hidden costs in a bond issue or assessment district."

The trucks will be purchased out of capital outlay funds on hand, according to William Satchell, district secretary. Two trucks are to be acquired, a ton and a half, and a two ton, to replace the Ford truck bought in 1932 for $200 and the International, purchased in 1940 for $600.

Bids were opened at the regular meeting Monday night from Ford, Chevrolet, G.M.C. and International, but were held over for study. All are very close, around $2300 for the smaller truck; $2700 for the other.

In addition to Evans, board members are: Clayton B. Neill, chairman, who has served since 1943; Allen Knight, since 1935; James B. Pruitt and Willis I. Shepard of recent vintage.

Man On A Stick, Ware Comedy Opens Friday

The new comedy, The Man-On-A-Stick, by Leon and Harlan Ware, opening a summer engagement at the Golden Bough Players' Circle Friday night, is the story of a mild little man, his two-timing wife and his scatterwitted mother-in-law—and what happens when he adopts an attitude recommended in a book on positive thinking.

"The play is designed for laughter," the authors say, one of them, Harlan, a Carmelite, "If there's a message—and we're told there is—that's entirely accidental."

Babs Richardson, as Mrs. Sophie Newsomb, the mother-in-law; Alex Olivetti, as Burton Travener and Betty Fowlston as his wife head a cast of well-known Peninsula players, most of whom have carried leading roles in other productions. The company includes Walter (Buck) Williams, Bud Houghton, Janet Fleuhr, Rick Beck-Meyer, Stephanie Hurd and Jerry Zellhoefer. The play is directed by Charles Thomas.

The Man-On-A-Stick was premiered in March at the Victoria Civic Theater in Victoria, Texas directed by Bernard Szold.

CARMEL LITTLE LEAGUE STANDINGS

San Carlos Realty	3	1
Pilot Market	2	2
Sport Shop	2	2
Boys Town	1	3

Jack Miller's San Carlos Realty, first-half champions, took over as second-half leaders this week and appear headed for a clean sweep in Little League baseball play. In Tuesday's crucial tilt with Pilot Market, the Realty gang was led by the outstanding play of pitcher Danny Holman who struck out 13 Pilot swingers and chipped in with a two-base blow with the bases loaded to drive in enough runs to win his own game. Danny gave the Market boys four hits over the six-inning route but he scattered them very effectively. Except for streaks of wildness, Forest Cornwall, Pilot hurler, turned in a good effort. The lanky seventh-grader doled out three hits while striking out 11 San Carlos batters and he produced the only homer of the game, hitting one over the leftfield fence in the last inning.

Monday night's game saw the Sport Shop nine stay within hailing distance of first place by downing Boys Town, 7 to 3, with Bobby Bauman pitching the win. Charley Konrad, Sport shortstop, and Bauman hit back-to-back homers in the second inning to practically sew up the game. David Harber was on the mound for the losers and contributed to his own downfall by walking 10 batters in five innings. Catcher Mike Bein hit a double to pace the Boys Town hitters.

Tonight's league play matches last-place Boys Town with first-place San Carlos Realty. Although the teams are at opposite ends of the ladder, the outcome of the game is a toss-up. Play is so close in the evenly matched league that no team can here be considered a favorite to win.

HOLLISTER LEGION CLIPS CARMEL POST 512, 7 TO 1

Hollister High School's classy CCAL B-division champions doffed the Haybaler baseball uniforms and donned the flannels of the Legion Post 69 to continue their winning ways in the diamond wars. Tony Williams, Post 69 manager, inherited a winning combination which did a workmanlike job of disposing of Post 512 at Carmel High field last Saturday afternoon. Hollister got off to a three-run lead in the second inning as Carmel's pitcher, Parker Pollock, hit a wild streak to walk three batters and set the stage for a resounding double off the bat of Fred Mathews. Post 69 got three more runs off Tim O'Shea in the fifth heat before Cim Conway came in to put out the fire. Conway pitched steady ball the rest of the way, giving up one run on a throwing error and allowing two hits in his four-inning stint. The Carmel Legion hit the scoreboard in the sixth inning when Neil Giarratana blasted a roaring double over the left-fielder's head and scored on a fielder's choice.

Legion action continues this Saturday afternoon as Post 512 travels over the hill to take on the Monterey Legion. Monterey also lost last Saturday, bowing to the strong Salinas nine, 7 to 2, at the Salinas diamond. Saturday's game at Monterey shapes up as a hurling battle between the Monterey corps of Yoshida, Millette, and James against the Carmel threesome of Pollock, O'Shea, and Conway. As all the Legion games are nine-inning affairs, it is a must to have a deep pitching staff to go the long route.

Next week's practice sessions for Junior Legion baseball will be held on Tuesday and Thursday at 5:00 o'clock.

HIGH SCHOOL POOL OPEN TO PUBLIC FROM JUNE 15 TO SEPTEMBER 3

Swimming instructions as part of the summer recreation program will start Monday, June 24. Five instructors will be at the pool each weekday morning to offer swimming courses which run the gamut from real beginners to speed swimmers and plain and fancy diving. As an added feature in this year's aquatic program, instruction will be given in small boat handling and sailing. Junior and Senior life saving courses are also included in the aquatic program.

CARMEL MERCHANTS EDGED BY NEW MONTEREY

In spite of Paul Ricketson's fine two-hit pitching, Paul Artellan's Carmel Merchant softball team dropped a 2-1 decision to the New Monterey Merchants in Monday night's Pacific Grove softball play. Leaks in the Merchant infield betrayed the steady pitching effort turned in by the fast-improving Ricketson. Ahead, 1 to 0 going in to the sixth inning, Ricketson saw his lead evaporate when New Monterey parlayed singles by Ramirez and Lembach into a pair of runs.

The Carmel pastimers outhit the New Monterey aggregation 4 to 2 but couldn't put the blows together for a sustained attack. Darrell Sanchez contributed a pair of singles to the Carmel cause while Dick Weer and Ricketson also chipped in with singles.

Do not carve on wood

He was honest, or he was good.
But write in smoke on a vagrant breeze
Seven words, and the words are these Telling all that a volume could
He lived, he laughed . . .
he understood.

This is the epitaph that Don Blanding wrote over twenty years ago about the way that he would want to be remembered. Don Blanding died last Monday in Los Angeles at the age of 62.

Carmel residents will remember him in just that way, when Donald Benson Blanding lived here in 1937-38 and in 1939-41. After that he moved to New York during the war years, and he joined the Army. He traveled to Norway, Paris, all parts of the world, but he was known most for his love of the Hawaiian Islands.

His second love was Carmel. Indeed, a footnote to his poem on Carmel (in his book The Rest of the Road) says "a man can love two places equally well at the same time. Hawaii and Carmel-by-the-Sea are not rivals in my heart. I just give each of them all of my heart . . . alternately."

Mr. Blanding was born in Kingfisher, Oklahoma, but began his world travels when he was fifteen. His professional career (after taking many odd jobs in many places) was first that of an artist, but when his employer needed a copy writer in the advertising agency, Don doubled as artist and poet for the firm. His first known book that helped him achieve success was Vagabond's House, published in 1928. The name of his home in Carmel was also Vagabond's.

NAME

CITY STATE

House, and Memory Room was the place that inspired many of his poems.

A veteran of both wars, Don wrote A Pilot Bails Out, an epitaph for the flyer, and used so often by the Air Corps.

When Don taught school in Hawaii he originated Lei Day. He has done more to promote Hawaii than anyone else, and they call him their poet Laureate. But he called Carmel "a story book town in a story book land, on a curving beach of fine white sand." " . . . I liked the town so very well, that I settled down there for a little spell and that was fatal . . . my heart took root, the place was well designed to suit the dream I'd carried so long with me, the spot where my Vagabond's House should be."

One spring, with sixty dollars in his pocket, he went to Yellowstone Park and then wandered to Chicago to do a stage setting for a play. At that time he met in an old house on the North side with some of the writers of the play, Sherwood Anderson, Ben Hecht and Maxwell Bodenheim, who were then unknowns. Then he continued his Bohemian life, traveling through the west, and in Europe to study in the art schools of London and Paris, then to Quebec. He stayed for fifteen years in Hawaii, and his book, Hula Moons, tells of the characters he met there, Ching Chong, the old candle maker, and the food he tasted, and describes the island paradise he loved.

His many friends were from the motion picture world, such as Joan Crawford, who lived across the street from him as a child, and writers, such as Jack London and poets, artists and children. He wrote a book for children about a San Francisco boy who goes to the South Seas, called Stowaways in Paradise. In 1932 he lived in Taos, New Mexico studying the people and their ways, living like a cliff dweller, and finally writing a volume of verse, Let Us Dream, published in 1933.

Just before he died he was sitting on his bed talking to friends. He was overcome by a seizure and fell. He died in the emergency hospital, the cause, unknown. His Hawaiian name is Aloha Lani, one who is a light shining from the clouds to the sea and earth below.

WEEKEND TENNIS

Members of the Peninsula Tennis Club will join other clubs throughout California for the Eighth Annual Pebble Beach Tennis Club Jamboree this weekend. There will be mixed doubles and men's doubles, round robin events on Saturday and Sunday. Tomorrow evening there will be a dinner dance at the Beach Club. John C. Gardiner is in charge of the tournament.

CORRECTION

In the May 30 issue of the Pine Cone, in reporting the car accident in which three Carmel High School seniors were injured while returning from a dance at Carmel Valley Inn May 29, we spoke of the party as the Senior Ball.

We are informed that the young people called it The Teen Age Party and not the Senior Ball.

Charles Greene

Charles Sumner Greene died in his home Tuesday after failing in health for some time. He was born October 12, 1867 in Cincinnati, Ohio. Internationally recognized for his California style of architecture, he was awarded the highest honor by the American Institute of Architects, along with his brother, Henry Mather Greene, in formulating this new architecture.

The monument to World War I dead on Ocean and San Carlos in Carmel is his design. Recognition first came to Mr. Greene in 1913 when he designed a patio bungalow in Pasadena for Arturo Bandini.

Both he and his brother went to Cincinnati's Manual Arts High School and took their degrees in architecture at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1891. They decided to open offices in California, but did not believe the prevailing Spanish style or formal styles of the east were suitable for California. Instead of elaborate decoration, the Greenses employed clean lines, walls of glass opening onto courtyards, and pierced overhang, achieving unity with the out-of-doors.

Charles Greene moved to Carmel over forty years ago. Between 1918 and 1924 he designed the James home at Carmel Highlands.

His survivors are his wife, Alice Greene, of Carmel, two sons, Nathaniel Greene of Monterey, Thomas Gordon Greene now in Saudi Arabia, and three daughters, Miss Bettie Greene of Pacific Grove, Mrs. Anne Roberts of Spokane, and Mrs. Alice Tate, wife of a British official in Southern Rhodesia, and five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Greene was descended from Cotton Mather and Gen. Nathaniel Greene of the American Revolution.

Private funeral services were held Tuesday at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove. Mission Mortuary was in charge of the arrangements.

Fred L. Sage

Fred L. Sage died at a local hospital on Tuesday. He and his family moved to Carmel two months ago. He was a Director of Chrysler Corporation. His home was Birmingham, Michigan. He was born on February 17, 1888 in Scotland, South Dakota.

He is survived by his wife, Olivia I. Sage, of Carmel, and a son, Fred L. Sage, Jr., of Birmingham, Michigan, and a daughter, Mrs. George W. Blair, Jr., of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and three grandchildren. His mother is Mrs. Alice Beck of Carmel.

Mr. Sage was a Mason, Order of the Knight Templar, Mishawaka, Indiana.

Funeral services will be at Manly & Bailey Chapel, Birmingham, Michigan. Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel are in charge of local arrangements.

Letters To The Editor . . .

League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula
June 1, 1957

Editor, The Carmel Pine Cone:

The Pine Cone's interest in the proposed Monterey Peninsula Junior College District is commendable. However, it is apparent from your editorial of May 30 that the study procedure of the League of Women Voters is misunderstood.

The study of a local problem is selected by the League membership. Study workshops are held and the conclusions are presented and accepted or rejected by the membership as a whole at a general meeting. The League of Women Voters can take no action on any matter without at least one year's study and an area of agreement among the membership.

Our study of the Junior College was undertaken during the years 1952-54 with a background of school redistricting in 1947-48. The League's conclusion was that educationally and financially a Peninsula wide Junior College District is desirable. Up to date figures bear this out.

Our "green paper" to which your editorial refers is an addendum to our membership which was also requested by the Carmel and Monterey School Boards. The League is not financially able to give wide distribution to the results of our studies (i.e. county charter, ABC for voters, pros and cons of ballot measures, area planning) as we conduct no fund raising activities in the community but are supported by volunteer contributions from our own membership. Therefore, we are able to provide only a limited number of our Junior College District study at no cost.

Mrs. Richard Eldred, president.

Editor's Note:

The League's study was not misunderstood, or the period of time it has covered. Our editorial concerned the "green paper" addendum which was whipped together in a week and based on figures which have since been acknowledged inaccurate by the assistant in the county superintendent's office who compiled them. —W. MPC COURSES FOR SUMMER

A course not offered in other junior colleges this summer, Marine Biology, will be offered at Monterey Peninsula College on June 24. Those interested in enrolling should phone the college. The course will be modeled after Rachel Carson's book, The Sea Around Us, and will feature actual field trips. The class may meet as early as 4:00 o'clock in the early morning to catch the tides in order to look for marine life, but the indoors class sessions are 9:00 o'clock every weekday morning.

A course in magazine writing will also provide accredited units. The course will be taught by Bill Kennedy, a Pulitzer Prize winning reporter.

Other summer courses: golf, algebra, mechanical drawing, painting, speech for foreign born and general psychology.

"Traveler in the Wilderness"

This Pilgrim's Progress title of Cid Ricketts Sumner's new book (Harpers & Bros, 1957, $3.50) is literally applicable to the adventure that is the subject of the book. A reviewer might be tempted to philosophize on the meaning of the title and so turn the book review into an essay on wilderness. This reviewer finds it particularly difficult to refrain from such an exercise, since his work is at present connected with the conservation of wilderness and its significance is to him of paramount importance, but first we must become acquainted with the remarkable personality of the author.

About three months ago Charles Eggert, one of America's foremost outdoor cinematographers who happens to be Director of Motion Pictures for the National Parks Association, gave his program, A Canyon Voyage, in Carmel. It was a motion picture story of a trip down the Green and Colorado Rivers, following the historic route of Major Powell's party in 1869 from Green River, Wyoming, to Grand Canyon. Mr. Eggert and his party made the sixth successful trip of this kind since the Powell epic.

The star of his program was one of his passengers, the author of our book, Cid (short for Placid) Ricketts Sumner. Completely frank in regard to her age (64 years) and completely uninhibited in her response to the at-times rather difficult adventures of the trip, she has given us an intimate story of daily doings of the small party in their two neoprene boats. The details of making camp, preparing meals, doing laundry, caring for personal needs, and so forth could very easily be boring in the hands of a less competent writer. Cid Sumner, who has written half a dozen successful novels, invests them through the play of her lively humor with a never-failing interest.

Under our author's skillful pen the other members of the party came alive and the reader becomes as much interested in the human elements of the adventures as in the contemplation of the wild scenery of the river canyons. As seen in Charles Eggert's movie version, the dangerous running of the rapids takes a fascinating hold on the imagination. As it unrolls in Cid Sumner's book, the physical adventure becomes of secondary importance and one becomes pre-occupied with the meaning of the experience.

This comes to the surface per-wrote on the spur of the moment—for she is poet as well as novelist—while they were exploring a narrow canyon named by a previous party Hidden Passage. Distrustful of her ability to describe its glories in prose, she got out her notebook and wrote:

"To Hidden Canyon come with reverence.

It is a holy place, this nautilus, This mighty, spiral-chambered carven shell.

Step softly here where seldom man has trod—

So Adam walked in Eden's virgin dell

That lay still dewy from the hand of God."

Charles Eggert quotes this to good effect in his movie program. To me it includes much of the essence of wilderness. Remoteness, solitude, quietude, a sense of adventure, virginal beauty—these to me are the outstanding qualities of wilderness. Cid Sumner and her companions felt this in Hidden Passage. It is a consummation ardently desired by those who identify themselves with John Bunyan's Traveler in the Wilderness in their efforts to emerge from that particular type of wilderness. This search for the real meaning of wilderness is to many the main end of existence.

BUSINESS ASSOCIATION MET

On June 5 the Carmel Business Association met at the La Playa Hotel, and were entertained at their dinner by cartoonist Gus Arriola.

Mr. Arriola used to live in Arizona and Los Angeles, and he used to yearn to live in a place of beauty, uncluttered by the trappings of civilization. His talk was on this subject. He warned business men that Carmel is becoming commercialized and told his personal experience in driving all up and down the California Coast looking for a place of beauty, until he found Carmel. This is where he is making his new home, and he wants Carmel to stay as a community to live in, not a place of commerce.

NEW TRI-DAM

How P. G. & E. works with farmers in the great Tri-Dam Project on the Stanislaus River... to bring more water and electricity to California

On the Stanislaus River, three big dams are nearing completion—a joint project of the Oakdale and South San Joaquin Irrigation Districts, to be dedicated June 15. The Tri-Dam Project means a lot of new irrigation water for the Oakdale, Manteca, Ripon, Escalon and Riverbank areas. On its way to the fields, the water will turn electric generators, producing enough electricity to supply 145,000 homes. P.G. and E. will distribute the power, paying the Irrigation Districts $115,000,000 for it over a 45-year contract period. This revenue pays for the three dams and powerhouses. Thus a vast new source of irrigation water is provided FREE. And P. G. and E. gets another source of power to serve the growing needs of its customers. P. G. and E. has business arrangements like this with a number of other water development projects in Northern and Central California. And everyone benefits.

John Vrieling, President of the South San Joaquin Irrigation District, says this about the P. G. and E. cooperative plan: "The contract with P. G. and E. will give sufficient revenue to meet all the construction, operating and maintenance costs of the project. So the additional water made available to the land owners is free at the canal. And I believe it's a good arrangement for P. G. and E., too, because it provides the Company with another source of power. It's a good deal all around."

Everyone benefits from these time tested joint-development water projects. They help assure plenty of power for growing California, help you live better electrically.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

You might say that your library is rising to the challenge of space travel. You just might say that because we have three new books on space and man's attempts to conquer it. All of these books are different, but all are related. One is by a famous scientist from Germany whose name is Heinz Garmann. The book is called The Men Behind the Space Rockets, and it is the story of the men of all nations who pioneered in rocket design. The second book is by Patrick Moore and is called Earth Satellites. In view of the fact that the first earth satellite is soon to be launched from this country, it is time we had books on this subject which are geared to the general reader. This is such a book. The third book is concerned with a projected voyage to the planet Mars, and it was written by Willy Ley. It is entitled The Exploration of Mars. It came out last year but since no one has yet taken off for Mars, the book is still pertinent.

John Beal has written a biography of John Foster Dulles, a man who always wanted to be Secretary of State rather than President. He is also a man who has been much praised and much criticized. You probably will not change your opinion of him merely because of reading this book, but read it anyway. You will learn a lot about Mr. Dulles which you did not know before, and that is most important.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, who is a prolific writer on medical subjects, has a new book called New Advances in Medicine. We are slow to add medical books to our collection because of the danger of encouraging readers in self-diagnosis, but this book seems to avoid such dangers, and it is very interesting. It is a discussion of the various advances in medical knowledge. Just remember not to use it as a substitute for a good physician.

Janet Flanner is an American who has lived in Europe since 1921, from which point she writes for the New Yorker. She has several books to her credit, and the latest one of these is called Men and Monuments. It is a discussion of certain modern artists and their work, and also of the tendency of conquering armies to become art collectors immediately after entering a captive country.

Now that the coastal fogs of summer are here, you may be planning a trip into the interior and the book to help you plan is The Handbook of Wilderness Travel by George and Iris Wells, two experienced campers who now live in Mill Valley, California. This handbook supplies lists of necessary equipment and discussion of all types of conveyance. Perhaps the most important part is the detailed listing of suitable wilderness in every state in the Union. This is really a good book to own if you are the woodsy type. Read the library copy first to see whether or not owning your own copy would be helpful to you. Just do remember to return the library copy when you are finished, that being a tender spot with us!

June is burstin' out all over . . .

With a tempo for everyone's taste . . .

June can take you away on a trip or bring you to Carmel to vacation. This midsummer month means June brides, and presents for weddings, showers, and honeymoon houses. It means that even in Carmel—between the morning and evening fogs—you may be able to lunch, sun yourself, rest, read, perhaps even dine out-of-doors. And if nothing else happens June brings the best roses, the most fragrant gardens—and Midsummer's Day and Night, long fabled in myth and legend.

Whether you're seeking a string of cultured pearls for a girl graduate . . . a "glamor" frying pan for some bride on your list . . . a leather case for your passport . . . or a pretty summer frock that "drips and dries" (while you sit by lazily and watch it!) the shops here are ready to grant your every whim.

The proprietors of Carmel's world-renowned stores have been preparing for June for months—gathering the best, as well as the most valuwes, in play clothes, travel costumes, luggage, presents for every imaginable occasion, the gadgets, the appliances, the "fun" furniture for patio, garden, porch or deck which can make this a memorable summer for you.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Morehouse said goodbye to their daughter and her family when they returned to Lodi. First the family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nies and Sandy, four, and Valerie, two, came to Carmel to visit the Morehouses, then drove up to Seattle. They have friends up there that Arthur met in the Air Corps, and they wanted to see the beautiful scenery. They returned to Carmel for a brief visit with the Morehouses before going home to Lodi yesterday.

Award For Lt. Andrews

1st Lt. William Andrews of Carmel piloted the plane of aircrew No. 10 of the 55th Weather Reconnaissance squadron at McClellan Air Force Base, California. His crew won the Yates award in a ceremony for the outstanding weather reconnaissance crew. This squadron of Lt. Andrews has been in operation for seven years, carrying with them a dropsonde, a parachute-borne weather-sensing device which sends code signals in order that the men may determine pressure, humidity, and temperature from their California base. The award was made last Friday.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John Young of Carmel announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Flanagan, to Robert McCurdy, originally of Hayward, California. Judy went to school in Ohio, but her family moved to Carmel a few years ago. Robert is a State Highway Patrolman who lives in Carmel.

They plan to be married in Carmel sometime in the fall.

A Great Day For Patricia

Eight year old Patricia Ann McKiernon had a party on May 30 because she became an American citizen only the week before. She is the adopted daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Thomas McKiernon of Vista del Rio, Carmel Valley. Four years ago, half of her life ago, she was in a children's home in Germany, where the McKiernons were stationed. There were several guests present at the citizenship party to wish her well: the Major Roy McCracken family, Mrs. Claire Jones, Mrs. Cora Schlesinger and other neighbors.

Paplow's Brief Trip With Judy

Judy Paplow won the Scholarship from the Music Trade Association's Annual Scholarship Competition. It is a $700 Scholarship for the Music Academy of the West in Santa Barbara.

Cartoonist Bob Paplow and wife and daughter Lindy will drive Judy down to Santa Barbara on July 5, in time for her eight weeks' session. Daughter Lindy is playing the violin this coming Sunday night at Sunset Auditorium; Sara-bande will be her selection. After they leave Santa Barbara and Judy, the rest of the family will drive south, stopping at La Jolla and on to Mexico for a few days.

Abinantes sponsored Judy in the competition, which she won over 96 other entries. She is a student of Gilbert Boyer of Carmel. She hopes to win other scholarships for either Curtis, Juliards or Eastman School of Music and pursue her music career.

The difficult Scherzo in B minor by Chopin was Judy's winning piece.

Von Richters Entertain

The couple was interested in the Portuguese classes at the Language School as well as the Latin influence noticeable in the Carmel area, the Mission, and the local museums. They were entertained by Mrs. Henry Potter Russell and Dr. Remsen D. Bird. Last Friday they left to visit other parts of the United States.

Miss Hague Had Guests

Last Sunday night two nephews of Miss Alexandra Hague arrived from Colorado, John Dewey Pigman and William Pigman. They left the following Monday night. Miss Hague is director of Peter Pan School, which has just closed for the summer. On June 14 she will embark for Honolulu.

Sunny's In Delaware

Dr. and Mrs. Donald Matteson (Sunny Cook) and six months old Eric have newly settled in Wilmington, Delaware. Don, a National Science Fellow since his graduation from the University of California, received his doctorate in Chemistry from the University of Illinois last month. He is engaged in research in the Du Pont laboratories.

Miss Jamieson Abroad

Miss Edith Jamieson flew to the east coast last Monday night to join a friend on a tour of Norway, Sweden and Denmark, and then England, Scotland and Wales. Miss Jamieson is the owner of Holiday House. Holiday House will be open even though Miss Jamieson is away.

Timothy Michael Arrives

Mr. and Mrs. Terrance Milligan are the parents of their first child, Timothy Michael, who was born on June 6 at the Peninsula Community Hospital.

Award Given Cartoonist

Vaughn Shoemaker was presented the George Washington Honor Medal Award for his political cartoon, The First United Crusade. The Carmel artist received his award last Sunday on a special public service program from the Freedoms Foundation by Dr. Kenneth C. Wells, president of the Foundation.

Mr. Shoemaker was honored for his work in bringing about a better understanding of the American Way of Life for the year 1956.

Mrs. Velasco Feted

Mrs. Joseph Motta said, "We wanted to give a great big party for mama. So we closed up the Spinning Wheel at 8:00 o'clock June 2, and didn't let in any more customers. We had a beautiful table and forty people came for mama's party. She didn't know we were going to have it."

That is the way that Mrs. Angela Velasco celebrated her eightieth birthday.

The Bill O'Malleys were there. Her daughter came all the way from New York to be there, Anna de Carroloe, and her family. Mrs. Motta's daughter, Mrs. Mario Montana and her family, and Joseph Motta, and his friends and family were present. It was a complete surprise to Mrs. Velasco.

Mona Williams Seeks TV Material

Mrs. Henry Meade Williams, (author Mona Williams), just returned from Hollywood where she gleaned information for her new novelette coming out in Redbook later in the year. The setting for the story is a television studio.

Harlan Ware, author of One Man's Family, introduced her to his friend, Jack Bailey, master of ceremonies for the television show Queen For A Day. Mrs. Williams reports that Mr. Bailey was a little wary of her at first, because of the way writers treat the characterization of TV personalities; that is, the novel Face In the Crowd and The Great Man portray the drive for power and the bad side of television stars. Mrs. Williams reassured Jack that her story was about a lovable man who was admired by those working around him. At this, Jack showed her around the studio, took her back stage to the program Queen For A Day, took her to the Brown Derby, introduced her to nice people and Mona Williams had a fascinating time. She returned to Carmel on June 4.

Instead of writing, as Jack Bailey feared, a novel contemptuous of TV master of ceremonies, Mona's book will reflect the drama and working of a television program behind the scenes, the feelings and emotions of the studio people working together to produce a show. The novelette is still in process.

Her daughter Lacy is at home with her now, and her husband will arrive at the end of next month from Virginia. She has not seen her son for two and a half years. He is a Specialist 3rd Class for Army Intelligence now stationed in Heidelberg, Germany. Christopher Williams will finish his three year period of service in time to be home for Christmas. By that time her novelette will be finished and her family will be together again.

Margaret Nieto Engaged

At Magnolia House, a student residence house in San Jose, last Monday night Margaret Louise Nieto surprised her friends at dinner when the candle was passed, and she blew out the light, thus announcing her engagement to Charles Brasher. Margaret displayed her pearl engagement ring to her friends.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Nieto of Carmel, and sister of Katherine Nieto who will be maid of honor at her wedding. She attended Junipero Serra School in Carmel and Junipero Memorial High School in Monterey. Both Margaret and Charles attended Monterey Peninsula Junior College, where they met, and both are now attending San Jose State College where they are juniors. Charles, the son of Mrs. Margaret Brasher of Watsonville, is a member of Beta Chi fraternity.

The wedding will take place at Carmel Mission.

MacLennans Return

Mr. and Mrs. J. William MacLennan are back in Carmel after six weeks in the Hawaiian Islands, spending most of the time at the Surf Rider Hotel on Waikiki Beach, Honolulu, and returning last Thursday on the Lurline. Features of their trip included visits to the islands of Hawaii and Kauai, (in which Mrs. Fred Neupert of Carmel joined them), swimming almost daily at Waikiki, sailing in the catamarans, and racing the surf in the outrigger canoes. The MacLennans enjoyed exploring Mr. Ernest Gann's ship, The Albatross, which was tossed about considerably by the tidal wave of last March and which is to be used in filming Mr. Gann's latest book, The Twilight of the Gods.

A visit to the home of Madge Tennent, perhaps the best known artist in Honolulu, was also a very enjoyable occasion. Mrs. Tennent presented Mrs. MacLennan with an autographed copy of her book, beautifully illustrated with many reproductions of her work. While on the islands Mrs. MacLennan (E. Cashion MacLennan) made a number of sketches, and plans an exhibition later in the year when she can put these into more permanent form.

Returned From Europe

On June 6, Miss Mella Henderson, who works at Emerson's Real Estate, and Miss Helen Loraine, who works at Spencer's House of Cards, returned from Europe. They visited Denmark, Holland, France, Italy, Switzerland and England. They flew both ways on S. A. S. (Scandinavian Air).

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The healing and protecting power of effective prayer will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man."

Scriptural passages will include the following from Psalms (145: 18, 19): "The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read (231:8): "If God heals not the sick, they are not healed, for no lesser power equals the infinite All-power; but God, Truth, Life, Love, does heal the sick through the prayer of the righteous."

The Golden Text is from Hosea (12:13): "By a prophet the Lord brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved."

A $60,000 HOUSE FOR $37,500 . . .

That's right. If you wanted to replace this 5-year-old, 3-bedroom, 2-bath, Carmel Woods house today, it would probably cost $60,000 to do it. True, you might not want a custom-built refrigerator and freezer in the kitchen or rheostatically controlled lights in the large dining room. You might not want Spanish ceramic tile on your stainless-steel topped bar. You might not build an expensive, marble, tile, and glass block master bathroom. You could save several thousand dollars by making the huge patio in concrete instead of brick; you might not even want to be able to floodlight the entire exterior of the house instantly from a master switch in the master bedroom. You could economize by not having a shake roof, not fencing completely with solid grapestakes, cutting down here and there—but when the smoke clears away, you'd still have $37,500 invested, so why not have the benefit of all these extra, custom features that somebody else paid for.

Call for an appointment.

Ocean Avenue Has A Bookshop Again

A bookshop is back on Ocean Avenue, true to the literary and artistic tradition of Carmel. And the bookshop is The Wells, a Carmel institution with a history and significance of its own. This week The Wells opened newly expanded and decorated quarters on Ocean Avenue, east of Dolores.

Fourteen years ago Polly and Joseph Wells began a lending library in the Seven Arts Court known as The Wishing Well. As interest in the project grew, Polly Wells transferred quarters across Lincoln Street to the Dummage Building, where The Wells prospered for a decade, adding new books to the lending library, and a constantly expanding selection of classical and popular records for those who liked entertainment by ear as well as by eye.

In the decade that The Wells served Carmel, Polly Wells has seen the advent of the L-P record, the home record library, a succession of musical "fashions" from swing to rock and roll. "We have a sensible clientele with conservative taste and fine musical sense," says Mrs. Wells with a smile, when she is asked about rock and roll. "For those who wish it — we have it," she admits, "but in our new Ocean Avenue premises we plan to stick to the tried and true in music, giving our friends and patrons what they like best."

The Wells Ocean Avenue location, attractively remodeled from a gift shop, includes comprehensive display sectors for new fiction and non-fiction, and a comfortable browsing area for Polly Wells' lending library.

On Ocean Avenue Mrs. Wells is supervising the construction of an audition room of spacious dimensions (12'x16') where patrons may listen in leisure and comfort to records.

Colonel and Mrs. Wells came to Carmel originally from Beverly Hills. Their son, Harvey Holden Wells, is president of Air-Pack Corporation, the packaging subsidiary of the Flying Tigers Airlines. He and his wife, and the Wells' two grandchildren, Lynn, six and a half, and Paul, 5, live in southern California.

The moving of The Wells to Ocean Avenue gives Carmel a bookshop on the main thoroughfare, which many consider a right and proper state of affairs. (For the last two years, Carmel's principal street has been minus any store selling books).
